

Overcoming Gram-negative infections in an era of antimicrobial resistance

Saturday,
26 September 2020
14:00 – 16:00

Save My Spot Now!

Click to register or visit:
<https://pfizershapelivemdr.com/login>

On the day of webinar, click LOGIN in the site to enter.

Mark your calendar for this live webinar, featuring expert presentations and discussions about practical issues in managing multidrug-resistant Gram-negative infections, and the role of new therapeutic agents in the current treatment landscape.

PRESENTERS

Dr Andrew Wong

Specialist in Infectious Disease
Private Practice
Hong Kong

Professor Yehuda Carmeli

Head, Division of Epidemiology
Tel Aviv Medical Center
Israel

Dr Francesco Giuseppe De Rosa

Associate Professor in Infectious Diseases
Department of Medical Sciences University of Turin
Italy

PROGRAM

5 mins	Welcome and opening remarks	Stephen Lin, Pfizer
30 mins	Multidrug-resistant Gram-negative infections: Burden, management strategies and unmet needs in Asia	Andrew Wong, Hong Kong
35 mins	Fighting difficult-to-manage infections with a novel agent: Practical strategies and considerations	Yehuda Carmeli, Israel
25 mins	How can we integrate new antibiotics and AMS for the future?	Francesco Giuseppe De Rosa, Italy
20mins	Interactive discussion and Q&A	Moderator: Stephen Lin, Pfizer Panelists: All speakers
5 mins	Summary and closing	Stephen Lin, Pfizer

This webinar and the information provided on this invitation are intended for Healthcare Professionals in Australia, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand and Vietnam only.

This webinar series is strictly meant for Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) only. Accessing and/or dissemination of this information beyond HCPs is restricted and not allowed. If you are not the intended recipient, you should delete this message and any disclosure, copying, or distribution of this message, or the taking of any action based on it, by you is strictly prohibited.